

Shake, rattle & roll

For baby's first holiday, choose toys that will engage and entertain him—and you!

1. Go fishing

Your baby will be reeled in by the Alex Tug Fish, $22. This soft guppy wiggles when he pulls the two ends away from one another, teaching him cause and effect. The fish also has a rattle, teething ring and crinkle fabrics for him to explore. 3 months and older. >alextoys.com

6. Build it, baby

Solid wood rings make the P'kolino Mini Puzzle Stacker, $25, easy for your toddler to grasp. First, he can stack the rings around the pole. As he grows, he can interlock any of the puzzle rings with each other to create a variety of towers. 12 months and older. >pkolino.com

7. Rule the roost

The Haba Henni Hen Clutching Toy, $18, rattles when your baby shakes it. Plus, she can spin the green clover to reveal a foil mirror—perfect for baby gazing. 6 months and older. >maukilo.com

8. Sort it organic

Made from organic cotton, the Dandelion Classic Sorter, $35, will help your baby develop his fine motor skills as he fits each textured shape through its corresponding slot on the sorter. Alone, each piece can be shaken or squeezed to produce different sounds. 6 months and older. >dandelionforbaby.com

9. Have a ball

Roll the Manhattan Toy Babyville Activity Ball, $16, to hear it chime. The boldly colored sphere also keeps your baby engaged with teething ribbons, panels of textured fabric and a picture of an adorable baby's face for her to study. 3 months and older. >manhattantoy.com

10. On the move

Your toddler can get up and go with the classic Fisher-Price Corn Popper, $12, which helps develop coordination and balance. When he pushes the toy, the brightly colored balls in the dome bounce around, creating a popping sound. 12 months and older. >toysrus.com

11. Turn the page

Reading becomes interactive with the Tiny Love Touch & Discover book, $22. You can help your baby touch the electronic butterfly to each page to produce different animal sounds or play peekaboo with the flaps on select pages. 6 months and older. >tinylove.com
